The Department is one of the first Teaching Departments in the country, which started Legal Aid and Advice Programme for the poor and needy. It was established more than two decades ago in the Department and was inaugurated by Hon'ble Mr. Justice V.R. Krishna Iyer, the then Judge, Supreme Court of India. The Clinic is actively engaged in Legal Aid and Advice programmes. It is also associated with Legal Literacy and Lok Adalats programmes and Pre-litigation Counseling. Legal and para-legal services are offered by the Faculty members, students, retired judges, public spirited lawyers and retired civil servants including social action groups. Clinical legal Education constitute an important component and tool for providing actual practical training on the art of advocacy, presentation and legal writing. The Clinic not only provides services to the people but also caters to the need for professional education and training of the law students.

The Department is publishing its own Law Journal entitled Kurukshetra Law Journal since 1971. It is an annual publication containing scholarly contributions from the Faculty members as well as other eminent scholars from India and abroad. The Journal has wide international circulation.
